Professional experience

March-May '10: Assistant at Joline Jolink. Working on collection S/S '11.
Making patterns, toiles, working on details and finishings.

July 2007: Assistant for Joline Jolink during a presentation of several Dutch designers at the "Alta Roma Fashion Week" in close collaboration with the "Dutch Fashion Foundation" and the Dutch Ministry of Economics.

June-August 2007: Internship at Joline Jolink, Amsterdam. Finalizing the S/S '08 collection. Designing a bag for this collection which was taken into production for several seasons afterwards. Assitant during the presentation of the collection at Amsterdam International Fashion Week and at a photo shoot with topmodel Rianne ten Haken. Researching the next collection on Eileen Gray.
Since Joline Jolink had just started and was still a young designer it gave me the opportunity to see how she managed to control different processes and how she dealt with the organizations that comes with starting your own label.

February-May 2007: Internship at Hennes & Mauritz, Stockholm. Working closely together with the head designer and her assistant. Working on new designs, woven and knitwear. Attending fittings, making moodboards and researching different details and finishings. I was very much involved in the whole process and it was an interesting experience to see how such a big company operates.

2004-2008: Backstage assistance in various fashion shows:
Arnhem Mode Biënnale, Joline Jolink, G-star Raw, Prelude
